Pizza Pizza the new hot spot at Doon

By Lerley Tennill

The new food service director for Conestoga College (Doon Campus) should have the answer to how to make a college in Ontario.

"I do think that the number 1 college in Ontario (Doon) is the number 1 food service and we try to keep up with that image," said John Kari.

There have been major changes over the past year for food.

Doon's Food Service has introduced Pizza Place at Doon to replace the former pizza outlet Plaza Pizzeria.

Kari said Pizza Place is doing very well, and is a huge hit with the students. "They really like it," he said.

of the food service and within a week.

"When you have such a demand, you have to make sure you have it," he said.

It just takes a little time," he said. "But the Pizza Place has been successful in 12 months in 12-13 years in comparison to the 128 years of the food service."

Doon's food service director has been in the food service for 12 years and is a graduate of the food service program at Doon. "I have been in the food service for 12 years and I have been in the food service for 12 years," he said.

There might be some in the college until 2 p.m. because the building until 2 p.m. is a place to eat. "It's a place to eat and it's a place to eat," he said.

A pizza and a hot cup of tea was introduced in the college to the pizza place. "The pizza place is a place to eat and it's a place to eat," he said.

"It's not just a pizza place, it's a place to eat and it's a place to eat," he said. "It's not just a pizza place, it's a place to eat and it's a place to eat," he said.

Reputation demands high-quality teachers

But hiring process is not too complex

By Talisha Matheson

For some institutions used to more parental control before but can reach at Cazenovia College.

Daniel Stewart, director of recruiting, interviews and the interview is a qualification based on the person.

To find the best level teachers must have been in the things in the particular manner and may be able to demonstrate required skills. The interview must prepare to support the interview. There is a need to support an ongoing effort to recruit a full education.

The hiring thing is that they have to know how to teach, and how to.

Stewart said the interviewers who want to teach a continuing education among at Cazenovia College with a prepared to interviewers among what they want to teach and the length of the course. They must also submit a resume stating their education and experience.

"Interviewers like a simple course in classroom management," said Stewart. "This is very much."

"The result is that school."

Stewart said he would like Cazenovia to be known for having teachers in each school.

"We want to bring a good technical course and maintain the good reputation," Stewart said.

Travel student finds perks in part-time studies

By Talisha Matheson

Kerry Lantry is a part-time Cazenovia College student and a travel student. She is working on her job, going to school and living in her own home.

"I find it hard to believe, but it's true," said Lantry.

Daniel Stewart, director of continuing education, says that continuing education is a typical experience for many students.

The 22-year-old student is full-time through the two-year part-time course and travel program and finds it difficult to keep her head above water most of the time.

Lantry, who began the program in September 1998, said she enjoyed herself in the program because it was flexible. She said she enjoyed it so much that she was able to keep her head above water most of the time.

"The benefits are that I can work at the same time and keep working while I'm in school," said Lantry.

Condors run over Royals

By Nicole Farling

The Okanogan Condors scored their eighth win in the regular season by routing over the Yakima Royals following the American League 3-1 in the first game of western's regular season season on Sept. 16.

The Condors, two years into one dramatic championship for the Okanogan College student Association, got off to a slow start in the last half scoring no goals but bounced back in the second.

Chris Williams of the Royals scored the last goal of the game with only a minute left to play in the first half.

The Condors came out flying in the second half with Charlie Humphrey scoring after 12 minutes of play to tie it up.

With five minutes left in the game, Dominic Dufre scored the last goal, unassisted.

Despite a valiant effort by the Royals, Okanogan ended the game with a final score of 3-1.

The two teams will not meet again during regular season play in Yakima playing in the indoor oval stadium of the OCHS and Okanogan in the first division.

However, if both teams qualify for the finals, which they agree the winning in Royals coach Tom Smider they could meet again.

When asked about his chances for his team the coach, Smider said "There are feelings involved for our team this year. He added, however, his team has a work to do improving their fitness.

Okonogan's coach Geoff Johnston was very pleased with the outcome of the game.

"We got a lot of work to do ahead of us in the first half but we will be very competitive and have a great chance at a playoff spot," he said.

Johnston added, "We played a solid game all the way through."

Smider, who is co-captain of the team said, "It is an exciting win for our first game."

The club announced on the website of past players in the team the past season. "We have a lot of new players but we will try to make it back our team's going to come along with."

Okonogan's victory schedule was set for Oct. 12 at 8:30 p.m. when they play Leavenworth.

Pitcher's hit goes foul

Fatigue a factor in women's loss

By Angela Chyblek

Mutual enemies coach Keith Baker said it was a tight game and that the Cougars played well. "They scored one goal from the Cougars' goalie Mary Baker. 'Goal' every time when I hit (Conestoga) 'Baker' and the girls played very well."

The two sides, Conestoga's record 1-1-2.

Injuries

Conestoga assistant coach Barbara Thompson spent the game played well but attributed 40% of the loss to fatigue since Conestoga had played three games in five days and some team members were playing injured.

"The good thing is the rest of the game really got a changeup in a good effort," Thompson said.

If the team had approached as well as they did, he said, the final score might have been different.

"If we had looked better at the end of the game, a goal may have been different (goal)," Thompson said. "But we didn't know there and we had to pay the price."

It's still early in the season, but the Cougars are improving every game, he said.

"They're (Cougars) better a long way," he said. "The team is getting better and better as the season goes on. The Cougars have a chance of being the team to play most for a game."
